Painting to begin on I-29 Hillsboro Interchange today

The North Dakota Department of Transportation (NDDOT) will begin painting on the bridge at the Hillsboro Interchange of Interstate 29 today, June 9. During the work, one lane of Interstate 29 will be closed in both the north bound and south bound roadways. Traffic speeds will be reduced down to 40 MPH in this area. The work at this interchange is expected to take up to two weeks depending on weather. Work will also be taking place at the Grandin, Gardner and BNSF Separation once the Hillsboro Interchange is completed.
